

Serving the Indy Community in Multimedia

Edgar Huang

School of Informatics

Over the years, School of Informatics faculty and students have served the community partners by creating 2D and 3D animations, shooting promotional videos, public service announcement videos, and documentary videos, design Web sites, producing games and graphic designs. This exhibit includes some examples of such works.